

NATIONAL HOME VISITING NETWORK

Our Purpose

To inspire the growth of a well-networked field that catalyzes and magnifies the collective reach and effectiveness of home visiting.

Centers of Activity Represented on the Advisory Committee

National Networks:

- Alliance for Early Success
- Association of State & Tribal Home Visiting Initiatives
- Center for the Study of Social Policy
- Education Development Corporation
- First 5 California
- National Alliance of Home Visiting Models
- Home Visiting Applied Research Collaborative
- National Home Visiting Coalition
- National Home Visiting Resource Center
- Start Early/National Home Visiting Summit
- Zero to Three

Federal Advisors:

- Administration for Children & Families
- Health Resources & Services Administration

Parent Leaders & Independent Thought Partners

Funding Support from the Heising-Simons Foundation

Our interaction is guided by four principles articulated by network scientist Jane Wei-Skillern, PhD, Senior Fellow, Haas School of Business, University of California Berkeley:

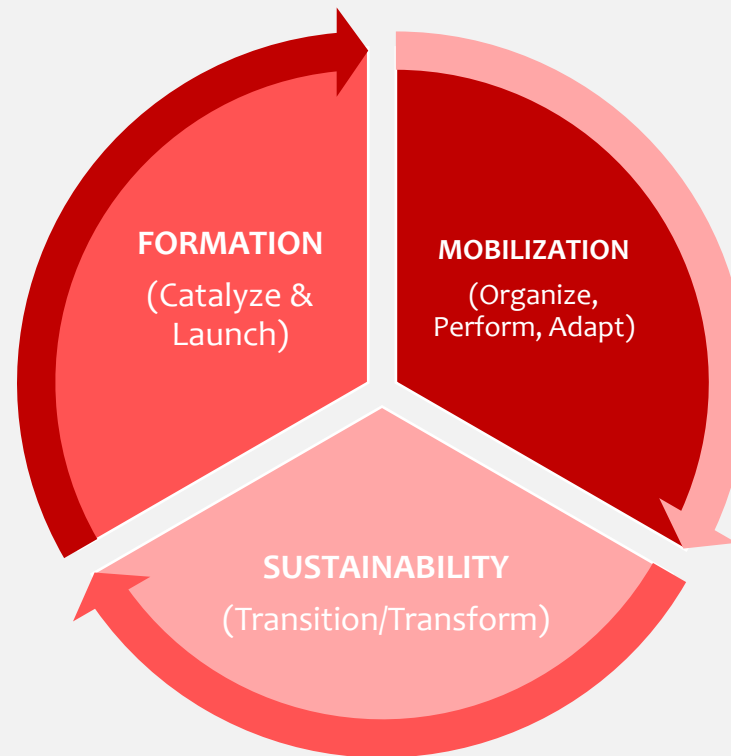

MISSION, Not Organization

CONSTELLATIONS Not Stars

PROMOTE OTHERS, Not Yourself

TRUST, Not Control

Stages of Network Development

Areas of Work

Network Operations

- Advisory Committee & Workgroups
- Applying Network Science Learnings
- Evaluation & Outcome Harvesting

Critical Conversations

- The Home Visiting Landscape
 - Universal
 - Targeted
 - Community-Developed
 - National Evidence-Based
- The Role of Home Visiting in Systemic Change
 - Racial Equity
 - Parent Voice
- Home Visiting as Part of Larger Systems of Support

Leveraging Network Opportunities

- MIECHV Reauthorization
- Workforce Issues
- Reimagining Research & Evidence
- Resource Exploration
- Emerging & Existing Opportunities

Embedding the Network Mindset

- Network Weaving
- Utilizing Existing Platforms to Share Learnings

Guiding Star

The benefits of home visiting are accessible to all families.